people on the other Islands of the group, ARRIVED .- On Sunday last, the American schoon er Caroline Medan, en route for the Islands of the South Pacific, viz., Fauning's, Kingsmill, Caroline Islands, etc., arrived in port, from San Francisco, with 125 bogs in fine condition, consigned to Messes, Laine & Co. We understand the hogs are all of famous breeds.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. Bartow, suctioneer, in another, column of a large invoice of new furniture, which will be sold this day at his salesroom. This is a rare chance for purchasers to obtain elegant new furniture below cost. See advertisement.

Stratemeyer the urtist has distinguished maelf again in his recent effort at sign painting. We refer to the female figure on the blind window of the store of Messrs Grant & Robertson, as an attraction to the public, that the firm have secured the services of a first class dressmager. This effort of Stratemeyer's is highly artistic, and shows what he can do when he tries. Said A. to B., the other day.

AMERICA VS. ENGLAND .- As a test of the sailing qualities of the ships of the respective nations it may not be out of piace to mention, that the American clipper ship Governor Goodwin of Boston, now in our harbor, left Glasgow four weeks after the British ship Ravenerraig from Liverpool, and three weeks after the British bark Stormy Petrel house of Mesars, G. W. Macfariane & Co. Up to the present date, neither of the ressels have as yet put in an appearance, while the Governor Goodwin has made the possage in 108 days. We think that the foregoing facts establish the reputation of the American ship for rare fast sailing qualities. from Liverpool, both vessels consigned to the house of Mesars, G. W. Macfarlane & Co. A QUICK PASSAGE.—The American clipper ship Governor Goodwin, Lester, master, arrived in port on Saturday evening last, 108 days from Glasgow. This is a remarkably quick passage and speaks well for the sailing qualities of the hoble react, as well as the efficiency of her commander. The Governor as the efficiency of her commander. The Governor Goodwin has an assorted cargo, consisting principally of the following sugar machinery, viz: Huelo plant for Mr. Watson's sugar mill, on Maul; Aksna & Brewer's plant, for Makawao; Schaefer & Paracer's plant for Kukuinsele, Hamakua, Hawali; Wilder & Co's machinery to make up missing pieces lost of plant by the Eskhank; two large mills for sale. All of Mirrless, Tait & Watson's manufacture. The cargo is consigned to the business house of Messra. cargo is consigned to the business hor G. W. Macfarlane & Co., of this city.

WRONG AGAIN .- The Advertiser in its last Issue makes a grave mistake. In an article headed "Exit Giles," it says among other things :

"Mr. Gibes is said to have spent the day at Waikit! among his friends, and when the Maivina quitted the port and stood up the rest toward Diamond Head, the gainant Gines cheerity shook hands and hade good-bye to those about him, got in a cause and was paidled off to the ship that was waiting to course blue, "Anywhere, snywhere"-out of Hawani, and the jarisdiction of the Suprette Court, which if its mandate was executed would hold Giles in durance vile until be had paid the sum of $5,000 damages, that amount a jury of the country having awarded against him."

Insuranch as the said area out of $1,000 to he had paid the had paid the said area out.

Imasmuch as the suit against Giles, in which the Jury gave $5,000 damages, was on the civil and not the criminal side of the Supreme Court, and there being no law in this kingdom allowing imprisonment for debt, Giles could not have been put "In durance vile." for non-payment of the $5,000 awarded against him. Giles might have stayed on this Island till he was as old as Methaselah without paying a cent of the $5,000, and could not have been imprisoned for a civil debt. Our reliable neighbor is a little off in this matter, but that's nothing new. So far as Giles is concerned, we have no regrets at his departure. If he had been aimost anywhere else than in Honoloulu and behaved himself as he did, there would have been a job for the undertaker in Giles' case, instead of a canoe and a ressel to bear him away from the scenes of his rascality and wantomiess. He has brought disgrace upon two innocent families and should be scouted wherever he goes. the criminal side of the Supreme Court, and there

THE DOG NUISANCE .- Alfision has often been made to the dog nuisance in this city, but there appears to be no effort put forth on the part of the authorities to shate it. It is safe to assert that nowhere outside of Stamboul is there such a number of nasty, mangy, disgusting dogs, in proportion to the population, as in Honolulu. Last year about this time a sporadic effort was put forth by the police to abute the dog nulsance, but the fit was of but short duration and the nulsance soon became as great as it ever was. The streets swarm with dogs of the most loathsome appearance. They are permitted to roam about numelested both day and night, to the utter disgust of pedestrians and strangers. If the authorities could only hear the comments of strangers on the dog nuisance, and they had any shame left, they would bineh to listen to the anathemas cent forth about it, and for very shame would put a stop to it. It has often been a matter of surprise to us that the better class of citizens in this city, have not long ago testified, in some public and emphatic manner, their detestation of the dog nuisance, so as to compel the police authorities to do their duty in this matter. In any other city on the globe there would be a demoustration that would arouse the sleepy officials to duty, but Honolulu seems to possess more people of "a meck and quiet spirit" than any town of its size ontside of London. It would be received. outside of London. It would be much more grate ful to our feelings [if the unisance of which com-plaint is made did not exist], to commend the offi plaint is made did not exist], to commend the offi-crais for a faithful discharge of duty, that to be compelled to comment upon existing evils as we find them. No mas should hold a public position who will not do his duty, and of this fact we hope the police of this city will take to notice. "THE LATEST FROM GEN. GRANT.-From time to time since the ex-President has been in Asia, we have had reports as to his movements. First, we were assured on 'good suthority' that he was going to pay us a visit at the Islands; then that he wasn't; then grain that he was, via the Australian Colonies. Here is the latest statement, which we find in the San Francisco Post, of August 2d:" "Captain Williams, of Williams, Blauchard & Co., to day received advices from the agent of the Facilit Mail Steamagh Company at Yokobama, that General Grant has taken passage in the steamer Jaty of Tokin, and will sail for this port on the 25th or 25th of this month. He will arrive here somewhere between the 12th and 15th of September."

We clip the foregoing from the last issue of the Advertiser as an item of news-reliable news, we suppose-regarding the movements of ex-President Grant, which appears to give our neighbor no little Grant, which appears to give our neighbor no little unexisness. From the tone of the above extract, it is evident that some folks breathe easier, now that it is fixed that Gen. Grant will not visit these Islands on his way home. Some busybodies in Honoluin have been conjecturing the reason of the anxiety, and it was answered in this wise: Had Gen. Grant stopped here, on his way East, he might have obtained information about the war record of certain parties that would have been very awkward and difficult to explain, and which would have given ad difficult to explain, and which would have give and difficult to explain, and white would have given the barve soldier a most contemptible opinion of a skulking coward who descrited his country's flag in the hour of dauger, and sought refuge in an out-of the-way place, not "away down South in Dixic," but in the midst of the Pacific Ocean where there was no shooting going on. "That's just the whole milk in the cocoanut."

ILLICIT SALE OF LIQUOUS .- We are credibly informed that the lilicit sale of liquors on the other islands is carried on to an extent that is appalling to contemplate. This unlawful and demoralizing to contemplate. This unlawful and demoralizing traffic has been prosecuted for so long that those engaged in it seem to have fancied themselves safe from prosecution; and, indeed, the immunity from poulishment which they have enjoyed has made them so bold in the business that the traffic is carried on in open day, and as We are informed, simost under the very noses of the authorities, who seem indifferent on the subject, and so the traffic goes on numolested. The consequences of this condition of things can be easily imagined. Demoralization, drunkenness and debauchery increases daily among the native and foreign population to a fearful exdrunkenness and debanchery increases daily among the native and foreign population to a fearful extent. This state of things should be put a stop to, and that specially, or we may look for results that will startle the community ere long. Liquors of the vices sort by unasterially affect the vices to the other islands to the dealers in this lilicit trade, which find a ready market among a class of people who are being rulued in body and mind by the use of such all a ready and mind by the use of such all and the pounds as an extended to the dealers among a class of people who are being rulued in body and mind by the use of such all and the pounds as an extended to the dealers among a class of people who are being rulued in body and mind by the use of such all and the pounds as a secondarious condition. among a class of people who are being ruled in body and mind by the use of suck viliainous com-pounds as are vended by persons who care for nothing but making money. SENTENCE COMMUTED .- His Majesty in Privy Council has commuted the sentence of John Brown. the seaman who was sentenced on the 21st of last July to be hanged for the murder of his shipmate, on board the American bark Morro Castle, Brown's life is spared, but he must endure imprisonment for a period of twenty years. We earnestly hope that a like Royal elemency will be extended to the unfortunate native woman Kellihanniwi, now under sentence of death for participation in the murder of the Chinaman at Walluku last spring. We are not aware that any efforts have been unde on the part of our citizens in her case yet. If not, we hope there will be soon, and that this poor woman may be spared an ignomiolous death by hanging. We trust that some humane person will take up her case and have it properly presented to His Majesty and Privy Council at an early day for consideration. life is spared, but he must endure imprisonmen

THE STREETS. - We think all will agree that some thing should be done to make the streets and sidewalks of Honolulu more passable. After a rain the condition of the streets is such as to make it anything but comfortable to get along without plunging out of one mud puddle into another, and as for the sidewalks, they are a libel on the name. There is really no excuse for this state of things. Here, where the material is abundant and convenient, at a comparatively small expense, and a little judicious management, the streets of Honolulu might be kept in the best of order. Why are property holders not compelled to pave the side-walks in frost and along their respective lots? It this were done it would not only add to the value of the property but beautify the city, and make it look as it some one cared for its welfare. The neglect of these matters is a sheer dereliction of duty on the next of those who are paid to look after they. part of those who are paid to look after them. In this connection we mention again the great neces-ity for a new system of sewerage to drain off the flith, and the abatement of the noisesome privy raults which are the source of annovance, and the effective breeders of typhoid fever so prevalent in this city at the present time. One week's preva-lence of southerly winds, with the present want of sanitary regulations, would in all probability induce sanitary regulations, with the present want of sanitary regulations, would in all probability induce a fearful epidemic, for which the Board of Health would be in a great measure responsible. Any-where else than in Honolulin such a state of things would not be tolerated. We call attention to a ommunication in another column, signed " A Tax Payer," which will be read with profit by our citizens of Honolulu.

Both cases began as "mysterious," known respectively as the mysterious murder at Richmond and the Eustonsquare mystery.

MINNEAPOLIS.—Among the rising cities of the Northwest there is none, perhaps, that has shown a more surprising growth than Minneapolis, Minn. From a population of less than 6,000 in 1850, it now contains 48,000, and its industries during that time have been equally expensive. It is one of the most important milling centres in the country, being in the heart of the finest wheat growing sections in the country, the annual shipments of flour having attained to a million barrels of flour. Its next most important industry is the lumber interest, which has important industry is the lumber interest, which has grown to colossal proportions. In the last decade its wholesale trade has grown from one or two small grocery establishments, selling over $100,000 annually, to forty or fifty firms, cogaged in all branches of trade, selling over $10,000,000 annually. These do not include manufactures, who job their own wares, or the product of either the flour, lumber, oil, wares, or the product of either the flour, lumber, oil, woolien or cotton mills, which would swell the amount to over $20,000,000. It has a banking enpital of 2,000,000, and a variety of important industries besides those already mentioned. The business men of Minneapolis, as a body, have a well carned reputation for enterprise and integrity, and they are offering their wide-awake neighbors of St. Paul a sharp rivalry in the race for supremacy in the trade of the Northwest. In the language of the annual report of its Board of Trade "it requires no prophet's ken to forestee greater improvements in Minneapolis during 1879 than in any former year in its history, unless some great calamity befalls the city and country during the year."
